simply put, active reading can be described as “reading with an awareness of a purpose for reading”. When you are reading actively, you are engaged in the material, thinking about the information you are trying to take in. You are making a conscious and continuous effort to understanding the material you are reading and to relate it

A close reading is a careful and purposeful reading. Well actually, it's rereading. It's a careful and purposeful rereading of a text. It's an encounter with the text where readers really focus on what the author had to say, what the author's purpose was, what the words mean, and what the structure of the text tells us.
